What could happen when critical testing results are delivered at the patient's side in less than 1 minute?

Patient diagnosis and treatment may happen faster.

Patient safety may be enhanced with a simplified testing process and integrated positive patient ID.

The hospital may make better use of resources.

The streamlined testing workflow could help reduce costs.

Outcomes could improve, and a complete, consistent clinical picture would be accessible across the care continuum.

Advance care delivery by bringing critical testing patient-side with the epoc Blood Analysis System

With the epoc® Blood Analysis System as the nexus of care, caregivers and the laboratory can stay connected to what's important—being where patients need them most.
